ABOUT

Hi, I'm Ian and I love Java! I am currently looking for a Java role in the area surrounding Fleet, Hampshire
I've recently enjoyed working in the fintech industry at Barclaycard working on their Smartpay Payment Gateway, whilst maintaining opensource projects in my spare time. Prior to that I was a Principal Developer at Net-A-Porter. Durning my eight years there, I built the company's first microservice which triggered a company wide migration to a microservices architecture. At Net-A-Porter I was also heavily involved in the opensourcing of software, was a speaker at several programming events, and ran programming workshops for near 100 employees
